Don't tell the little five-year old boy "the school-ma'am will cut off his ears,"—"pull out his teeth"—"tie him up"—or any of the horrible stories that are presented to the childish imagination. Think you the little one will believe anything you tell him after he becomes acquainted with the gentle teacher who has not the least idea of putting those terrible threats

Don't tell the children they must not drink tea because it will make them black, while you continue the use of it daily. Your example is Our Negatives are Skillmore to them than precept; and while your face is fair as a June morning, they will scarcely credit the oft-told tale. Either give up drinking the pleasant beverage or give the children better reason for its non-use.

Don't tell them they must not eat sugar or sweetmeats, because it will rot their teeth. Pure sugar does not cause the teeth to decay; sugar with fruits is nutritious and healthy, not-withstanding the "old saw" to the contrary. The case of city children is often cited as if the cause of their pale faces and slight constitutions were an over amount of sweetmeats with their diet, when the actual cause is the want of pure air and proper exercise.

Don't tell the sick one that the medicine is not bad to take, when you can hardly keep your own stomach from turning "inside out" at the smell of it. Better by far to tell him the simple truth, that it is disagreeable, but necessary for his health, and you desire him to take it at once. Ten to one he will swallow it with half the trouble of coaxing and werry of words and love you better for your firm de-

Don't teach the children by example to tell white lies to each other and to their neighbors. Guard your lips and bridle your tongue it you desire to have the coming generation truth-ful. Truthfulness is one of the foundatjon stones of heaven. Remember the old, old book says, "no liar" shall enter within the gates of the beautiful city. There is no distinction between white lies and those of a darker hue. The falsehood is an untruth, whether the matter be great or small. -Rural New Yorker.

Nothing disturbed thereat, she accompanied her husband to the British dominions North America, thence to New York, where, after giving birth to a daughter, she died. Hendricks, having thus lost his wife, gave himself up to dissipation, but was so far mindful of his motherless infant as to marry a German woman who had taken a fancy to the child. Now the Count, her grandfather, has yielded up to Heaven his vital trust, and as sole lineal heir she has gone to Italy to claim his title and his wealth. The fortune which thus talls to her is variously estimated from $200,000 to $800,000.

A LINCOLN RELIC.

The Lincoln monument just inaugurated at Springfield contains a me-morial hall in which retics of Mr. Lincoln are preserved. It is finished. on the inside with Illinois slate, the rest of the structure being composed of granite and iron. The hall contains a stone from the walls of Servius Tullius, sent by some Roman patriots to Mr. Lincoln after his second election to the Presidency. On its face they placed an inscription in Latin, of which the tollowing is a translation:

hair. It soon restores faded to its original color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed; but such as remain can be saved by this application, and stimulated into activity, so that a new growth of hair is produced. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair and we shall be tolled." from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. The restoration of vitality it gives to the scalp arrests and prevents the forma-tion of dandruff, which is often so uncleanly and offensive. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a HAIR DRESSING, nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich, glossy lustre, and a grateful perfume trial of its virtues, throughout this and other countries, has shown that it does aurely and effectually control them. The testimony of our best citizens, of all classes, establishes the fact, that Cherry Pecroral will and does relieve and cure the afflicting disorders of the Throat and Lungs beyond any other medicine. The most dangerous affections of the Pulmonary Organs yield to its power; and cases of Consumption, cured by this preparation, are publicly known, so remarkable as hardly to be believed, were they not proven beyond dispute. As a remedy, it is adequate, on which the public may rely for full protection. By curing Coughs, the forerunners of more serious disease, it saves unnumbered lives, and an amount of suffering not to be computed. It challenges trial, and convinces the most sceptical. Every family should keep it on hand as a protection against the early and unperceived attack of Pulmonary Affections, which are easily met at first, but which become incurable, and to often fatal, if neglected. Tender lungs need this defence; and it is unwise to be without it. As a safeguard to children, amid the distressing diseases which beset the Throat and Chest of childhood, Cherrar Pectoral is invaluable; for, by its timely use, multitudes are rescued from premature grayes.
